Wons there was a furry grey toy called ellie. She belonged to john.

One of her tusks were missing and the other was gruby from to much cuddling. Her tusk was missing because she had been chewd by there dog when he was a puppy. John would take my toy to school to the park and to bed.

On morning on the way to school John took Ellie owt to show her the diggers scooping soil on the bilding site. But Mum hurd the school bell ringing so she hurried John and his brother Ben along the road towards the school gate. Quickly! Were going to be late she cried.
